DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 2-9, and 13-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sahota (US 2003/0181973 A1) in view of Haverkost et al (US 2003/0139806 A1).

Sahota discloses a balloon catheter including a catheter shaft 104, a balloon 114 having annular ridges at both ends of the balloon, and a pouch (stent) 700(fig. 7J) disposed between the annular ridges of the balloon. The pouch includes a film 722 impregnated with an agent that is released through the pouch when the balloon is expanded. It is also disclosed that the pouch can be made of polymers [0070]. However, Sahota fails to disclose the pouch that contracts and expands with the balloon, and the pouch being made specifically of ePTFE.

Haverkost teaches it is known to made pouches (stents) of ePTFE in [0006]-[0011], and that the stents can radially contract as well [0078]. See also Pat. 5,693,085 incorporated by reference. Accordingly, it would have been obvious to modify Sahota's pouch (stent) by using Haverkost's ePTFE material, and include its radially contracting characteristic, since Haverkost teaches that it is all well known in the art in order to facilitate tissue ingrowth and minimize impact on the body.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 10-12, and 17 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

5. With respect to Haverkost and Sahota, the drug release liner/film used with the pouch (stent) in both references is of a very similar material such as polyester being resistant to degradation. The pouch (stent) can be made of ePTFE in Haverkost, and Sahota teaches that it can be made of polymers. Therefore, the combination is proper.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
